

What is the movie?

Imagine your love life was being watched, manipulated, and engineered, one moment at a time, by higher beings with mysterious intentions. And imagine if those beings disagreed on how the next moment should play out. Welcome to the Science-Fiction Work-Place Romance of Momentary Engineering, a Misplaced Planet Production.

The completed film will run approximately 25 minutes. It will be shot on professional 24p digital video, appropriate for festival competition and DVD distribution.

Why is the movie worth investing in?

This movie is a unique, fun, and surprising new approach to a widely appealing, universally human story of love and job-dissatisfaction. The cast, crew, and talent involved are experienced and have worked together with great success in the past. With the proper support, this movie will attract positive attention from audiences and critics alike.

What is our mission in making this movie?

The goal of this project is to go far beyond the usual 'get the group together and start shooting' sort of low-budget independent production. This piece will be polished, professional, and marketable, likely to attract important independent media and industry attention. After production wraps, the film will aggressively tour the festival circuit, where it is sure to find an enthusiastic audience. However, none of this is possible without the proper financial support.

Contribution Gifts

In appreciation for your generous contribution to the production of Momentary Engineering, we are happy to offer the gifts listed here. As your investment level progresses, you will earn additional gifts. Refer to the chart at right to identify your preferred level of contribution.

$25	Closing Credits Thank You
$50	Misplaced Planet DVD
$75	'Momentary Engineering' T-shirt or Sweatshirt
$100	Producer Credit
$250	Executive Producer Credit
$300	Appearance in film
$1000	Your production company (with logo) credited before the movie